British Columbia Youth Parliament	info@bcyp.org	The British Columbia Youth Parliament is a youth service organization dedicated to fulfilling our motto of "Youth Serving Youth". Our organization spans almost a century, having its roots in our predecessor organization in 1924, the Older Boys Parliament. During the Winter break, 97 youth ages 16 to 21 from across the province meet in the Legislative Buildings in Victoria. There we debate a variety of legislation that outlines projects that will be run throughout the year. In addition to this, Private Members Resolutions are introduced, giving members the ability to propose debate on issues close to our hearts and our communities. Our community initiatives include Regional Youth Parliaments, which are smaller scale events designed for 14-18 year olds that are run in the different regions of British Columbia. On top of Regional Youth Parliaments, Members also participate in other service projects throughout their communities.

Social Environmental Alliance Club	socialenvironmentalalliance@gmail.com	The UVic Social Environmental Alliance Club is committed to a world where the wellbeing of people and the planet takes priority over the accumulation of private wealth. We believe all human activity and social systems must operate within the limits imposed by ecological systems and with respect for non-human life. Recognizing the dangers of catastrophic climate change, the injustice of colonization and imperialism, and the inhumanity of growing poverty in the midst of plenty, we pledge ourselves to the lifelong project of transformative social change. We aim to accomplish our objectives through the application of ecological and democratic socialist principles to public affairs and the governance of our communities, nurturing a community of organizers to mobilize the consciousness and confidence of ordinary people and forge alliances in coalition with social movements, cultural organizations and grassroots community groups. Guided by the best traditions of indigenous, feminist, co-operative, socialist, labour, and environmental movements, we embrace a participatory, pluralistic and emancipatory model of democracy. We believe in the inherent dignity and equality of all people on the basis of class, gender, sexuality, ethnicity, religion, age and ability. Recognizing the right of indigenous and colonized peoples to self-determination, we embrace an internationalist perspective in foreign policy based on equality among peoples and the shared stewardship and fair distribution of the finite resources of the planet.

The Olive Tree (Palestinian Human Rights Club)	olivetree.uvic@gmail.com	Our mission is to foster networks of solidarity on campus and in the wider community, to raise public awareness of the ongoing dispossession and oppression of the Palestinian people, and to initiate nonviolent direct action in support of the Palestinian cause. The group stands in solidarity with all peoples' struggles for justice, freedom, and human rights, while recognizing that now more than ever—as unprecedented violence is overtaking the Middle East and casting shadows around the world—the Palestine question can no longer be delayed. Suffering under decades of colonization, occupation, and expulsion, most Palestinians are stateless, with no legal or political rights, such as the right to a fair trial or the right to vote. They have few social and economic rights, such as the right to travel. Millions of adults and children in the Gaza Strip and the West Bank (territories under Israeli military occupation and blockade) are forbidden to visit Jerusalem, to travel abroad, or even to go to the beaches of the Mediterranean just a few kilometers away, where Israelis swim freely. No people in the world would accept perpetual exclusion from humanity.

The University of Victoria's Formula Hybrid Team (UVic Formula Hybrid)	uvicformulahybrid@gmail.com	The UVic Hybrid Team is a group of UVic engineering students that design, build, and compete with hybrid vehicles. Our vehicles challenge the status-quo of hybrid vehicle technology, with performance and efficiency both far above conventional vehicles. Our work is difficult, but the team constantly steps up to the challenges of technical innovation that are presented when exploring new technology. However, the scope of our team extends beyond just building hybrid vehicles; we also believe it is important to give back to the community. Throughout the year we work in partnership with local organizations and schools to educate youth and the community about our hybrid technology, with the simultaneous goal of inspiring young minds to pursue a career in a scientific field. Informing the public, especially kids about hybrid technology is also key to making it mainstream in the eyes of consumers. As in any organization, the team of people pushing us forward is by far our best asset. This team is based on the dedication and hard work of undergraduate and graduate students from all disciplines of engineering, as well as business and economics faculties. Members come and go over the years but one thing remains constant: the UVic Hybrid team attracts some of the top students at UVic. Many of our old team members are now working at companies like Ford, GM, and Tesla.
