

SUBtext Banned Books

SUBtext does not accept the following books for 5 main reasons:

- 1) The textbook edition is far outdated for the courses being taught. We do accept older editions of most textbooks, but unfortunately, some versions are too different from the current course material and would be detrimental to student learning.
- 2) The new version of the textbook comes with a digital access code that is crucial to the course. Oftentimes, the textbook publisher sells the online access code for close to the price of the new textbook and code together, meaning that reselling just the textbook doesn't actually save students money.
- 3) Course packs that are specific to individual classes frequently get updated / switch readings, making most of the course pack useless for future classes.
- 4) The book is available for free online.
- 5) The book was published prior to 2010 and is deemed outdated.

Other books can be refused for any other reason at the discretion of SUBtext management.
